CHRISTIANITY AND THE ENCOUNTER OF WORLD RELIGIONS

Paul Tillich

"In these four lectures Tillich gives us a clear and succinct analysis of the contemporary religious scene. Above all, he makes us aware of the tremendous impact the quasi-religions are having on modern man . . . immensely provocative and important." — Christian Century

"Of special value and timeliness is the author's discussion of the impact of technology and secularization on such classic religions of the past." — New York Times Book Review

cloth $3.50; paper $1.25

METAPHYSICS AND RELIGIOUS LANGUAGE

Frank B. Dilley

This book enlarges upon the thesis that a metaphysical system is an articulated and systematized faith and that there is no absolute separation between reason and faith. The purpose of this study is to present and defend a theory of the nature of metaphysics, to delineate the kinds of problems which must be discussed, and the kinds of appeals that must be made in establishing the validity of particular metaphysical descriptions. $4.00

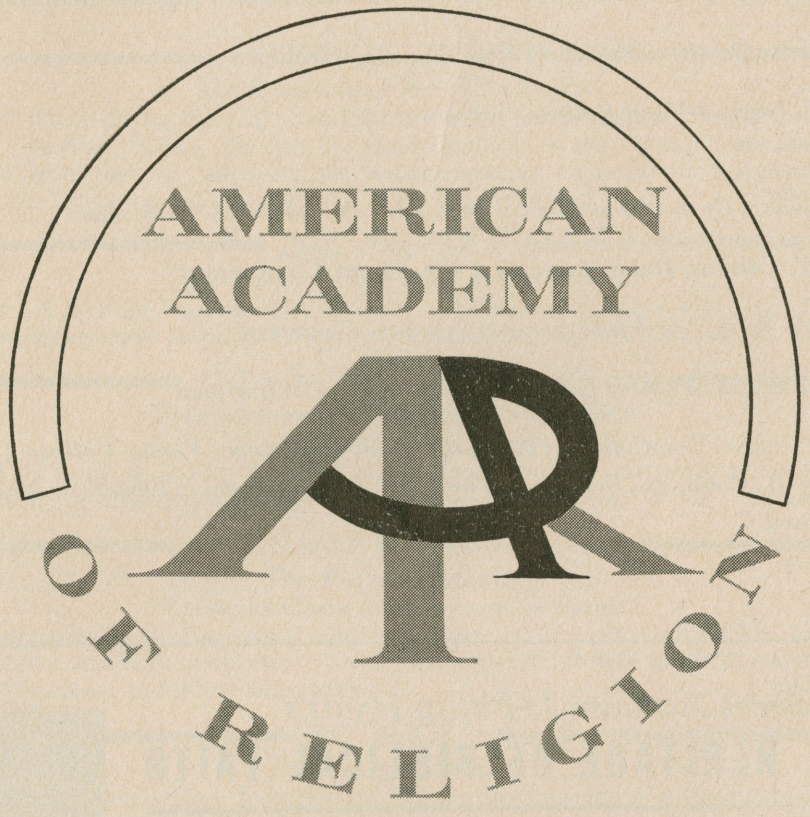

THE IDEA OF REVELATION IN RECENT THOUGHT

John Baillie

Nothing is more central to Christian thought than the belief that God has revealed Himself, His mind, and His will, to man. The main concern of this volume is with the impact of the challenge of revelation in men's lives. cloth $3.00; paper $1.45

Voices of SIGNIFICANCE in today's theology

HENDRIKUS BERKHOF

The Doctrine of the Holy Spirit

Dr. Berkhof sees the Christian faith from the much-neglected viewpoint of the Holy Spirit. Though he gives attention to the relation between the Spirit and the individual, he places emphasis on world-wide aspects of the Spirit—missions, the church, creation, culture. $3.00

EMIL BRUNNER

The Word of God and Modern Man

As a Christian believer, Dr. Brunner converses with those who cannot understand how belief in God can have validity today. Paper, $1.50

ALEXANDER J. McKELWAY

The Systematic Theology of Paul Tillich

A Review and Analysis

"This book is a very fair and clear presentation of my work and an excellent introduction to my theology." — Paul Tillich. $5.50

WILLIAM H. TIEMANN

The Right to Silence

Privileged Communication and the Pastor

Discussing both theological and legal aspects of a minister's right to receive and hold confidences, Dr. Tiemann traces church attitudes, cites court cases, and offers suggestions. $4.00

BO REICKE

The Gospel of Luke

Some of Luke's basic features and themes are considered in the light of a unified past—present—future. Paper, $1.00

EDUARD SCHWEIZER

The Church as the Body of Christ

Dr. Schweizer asserts that the church is not to be regarded as an extension of Christ himself but as his co-operative body in its love and service to God and mankind. Paper, $1.00

EDUARD THURNEYSEN

The Sermon on the Mount

Dr. Thurneysen insists that the Sermon on the Mount must be understood in terms of gospel—the revelation of the grace of God in Jesus Christ—and not as a model for man's moral conduct. Paper, $1.00

Concerning the Placement Service of the Academy

The American Academy of Religion wishes once again to call the attention of its membership to the offices of its Placement Service.

This service operates to assist members of the Academy in finding teaching positions in the field of religion. Members who are seeking placement are asked to write to the Placement Chairman, Professor Robert Osborn, Box 4735, Duke Station, Durham, North Carolina 27706. He will mail to the applicant duplicate placement forms, which, when they are executed and returned to the Placement Office, will be entered into the placement files. When an institution seeking to make an appointment inquires of the Placement Office, the placement chairman will mail to the institution the forms of those candidates who appear to be qualified for the position. Any direct contact between the inquiring institution and the candidate is initiated by the institution.

In order to make the office as effective as possible, there is an annual mailing, in the fall of the year, to the major college and university departments of religion, and to the major theological seminaries. Also, the Newsletter will carry notices of the placement service.

In order that the files be kept up to date, every candidate on file with the office is asked in the fall of each year to renew his application if placement is still sought for the next academic year.

This office is yours, and we urge you to use it should you be seeking placement or should you be seeking new appointments in your respective departments.

The services of the Placement Office will be available at the annual meeting, during hours to be announced at the meeting.

A layman's guide to scripture, its tradition, and reason

INTRODUCTION TO THEOLOGY

Marianne H. Micks

A distinguished teacher and theologian presents a straightforward account of the scriptural and historical development of major theological issues. She defines their dimension and significance today. In addition to her precise treatment of early periods of church history, she considers the past century and such figures as Harnack, Maurice, Barth, Bultmann, Niebuhr, Tillich, Bonhoeffer and others. Essential for laymen, helpful for clergymen, excellent as a college textbook.

The Second Edition of the highly successful, widely used text retelling the rise and spread of the Christian faith . . .

UNDERSTANDING THE NEW TESTAMENT, 2ND EDITION, 1965

by Howard C. Kee, Drew University, Franklin W. Young, Princeton University, and Karlfried Froehlich, Drew University.

Understanding the New Testament is written with the conviction that the New Testament is the record of the faith of the early Christian community. As such it is not treated as primarily a collection of religious literature, although historical questions are treated at some length, and the general structure follows the historical sequences. Features of the Second Edition:

- Extensively rewritten, this text provides the reader with a precise, clear picture of the growth of Christianty.
- Increased attention is given to the viewpoints of each of the gospel writers, with a chapter devoted to each of the four gospels.
- A more detailed explanation of the import of the Dead Sea Scrolls and the Gnostic material from Egypt on the background of the New Testament is provided in this edition.
- Greater emphasis is also placed on the critical questions implicit in the shift from oral tradition to written gospels and in the historical value of the Book of Acts.

WILLIAM TYNDALE

Edited by Gervase E. Duffield

This is the first extensive selection in over a century from the writings of a man whose labors are of inestimable importance in the story of the English Bible. Through his literary style he has shaped the English language. He is "the man who more than Shakespeare even or Bunyan has moulded and enriched our language," according to S. L. Greenslade, Regius Professor of Ecclesiastical History, University of Oxford.

"A reprint of this kind is no mere archaeological curiosity . . . We shall find that he has much to say to us if we pay heed to what we read."

THE THEOLOGY OF ST. PAUL

By D. H. Whiteley

"This book expounds Paul's theology lucidly and judiciously, as an integrated whole. Noteworthy is the inclusion of ethics as an integral part. Whiteley speaks old truths with freshness and presents new interpretations not elsewhere readily accessible. He draws on the rich findings of recent research to give a well-written, up-to-date account, several decades in advance of most comparable books on Pauline thought." —John Reumann, Professor of New Testament, Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia. $5.25
